

Ilse Crawford is known for creating environments where humans feel comfortable; homes that are habitable, public spaces that make people feel at home and make sense to those that use them. The collection, handmade by George Smith, has been designed to support and enhance human behaviour and make the normal special.

We like to think of the Ilse Sofa as a room within a room. The simplicity of the design belies the rigorous research that has gone into honing the extremely particular dimensions, each calculated and tested to ensure the pieces support the changing sedentary habits of modern life. They come upholstered in tactile long haired mohair in bespoke colours.
